

Sustainable California Notice

Film Release: Growing Beautiful Communities – August 10, 2012

POLICY IN MOTION PRESENTS:

GROWING BEAUTIFUL COMMUNITIES

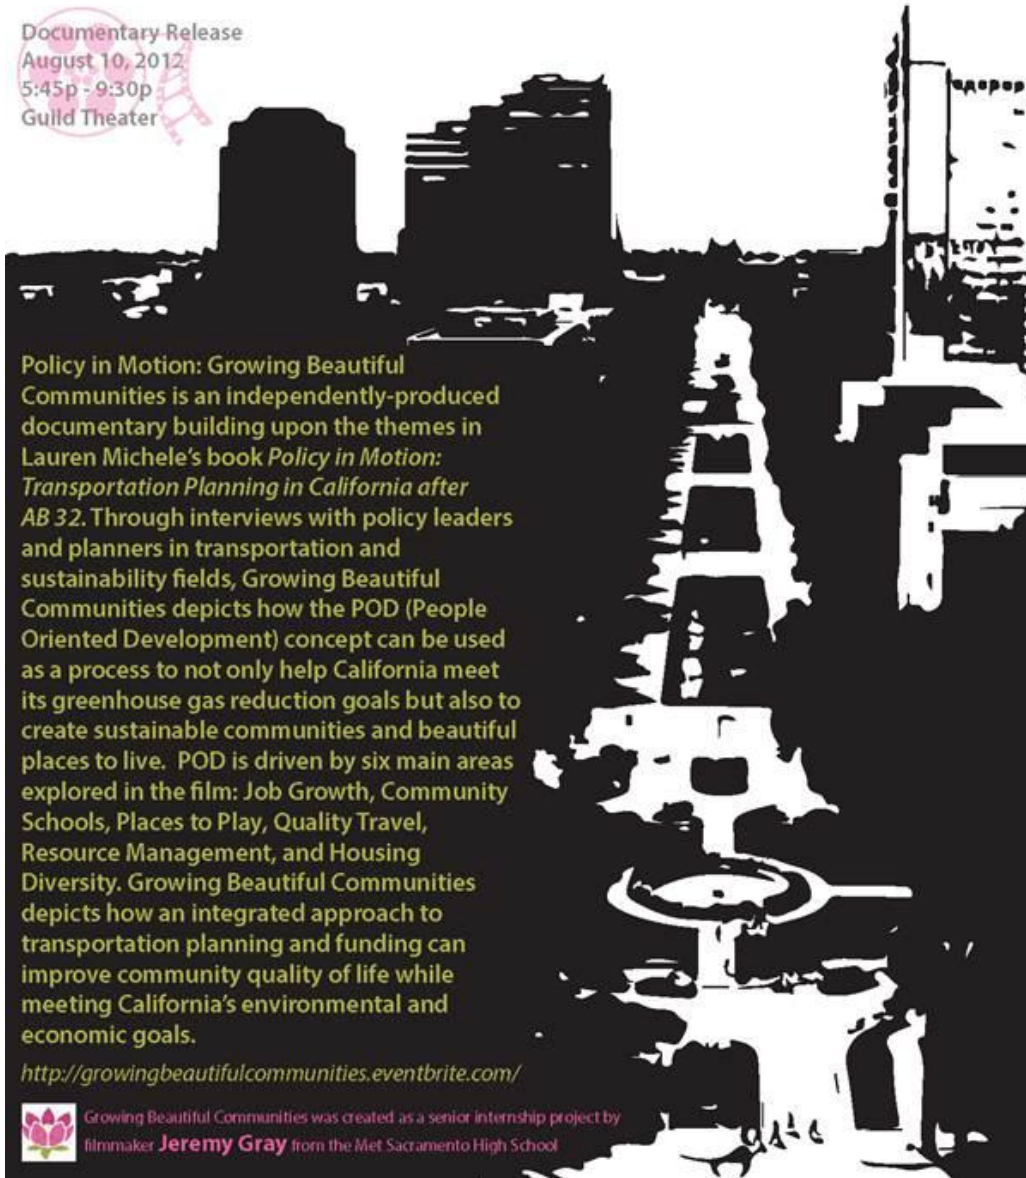

Documentary Release
August 10, 2012
5:45p - 9:30p
Guild Theater

Policy in Motion: Growing Beautiful Communities is an independently-produced documentary building upon the themes in Lauren Michele's book Policy in Motion: Transportation Planning in California after AB 32. Through interviews with policy leaders and planners in transportation and sustainability fields, Growing Beautiful Communities depicts how the POD (People Oriented Development) concept can be used as a process to not only help California meet its greenhouse gas reduction goals but also to create sustainable communities and beautiful places to live. POD is driven by six main areas explored in the film: Job Growth, Community Schools, Places to Play, Quality Travel, Resource Management, and Housing Diversity. Growing Beautiful Communities depicts how an integrated approach to transportation planning and funding can improve community quality of life while meeting California's environmental and economic goals.

<http://growingbeautifulcommunities.eventbrite.com/>

Growing Beautiful Communities was created as a senior internship project by filmmaker Jeremy Gray from the Met Sacramento High School

Growing Beautiful Communities

Film includes interviews with Mike McKeever, Chief Executive Officer of SACOG; Jerry Walters, Chief Technical Officer of Fehr & Peers; Larry Greene, Director of the Sacramento Metropolitan Air Quality Management District; Joe Krovoza, Mayor of City of Davis; Allen Young, Principal of the Met Sacramento High School; Sustainable California's own Connie Gallippi; and over a dozen other leaders in community sustainability through integrated transportation and land use!

Tickets are $10 and all sales go toward student scholarships for Policy in Motion's Career Development Mentorship Program. Kindly forward this email to your organization's members and friends :)

August 10, 2012

Guild Theater
2828 35th Street
Sacramento, CA

PROGRAM

5:45pm -- Doors open/reception (wine and gourmet appetizers for purchase)
6:15pm -- Opening remarks on climate change policy and sustainable community implementation in California; 2012 student scholarship awards
6:45pm -- Film screening
7:45pm -- Q&A panel from key leaders in transportation and sustainability planning and policy
8:45pm -- Closing reception

TRAILER: <http://www.policyinmotion.com/>

TICKETS: <http://growingbeautifulcommunities.eventbrite.com/>

Sustainable California

Conservation Strategy Group manages Sustainable California as a forum for organizations and agencies to share information and identify opportunities for individuals and organizations to engage in urban sustainability policy development and funding programs, focusing on activities in California.

Conservation Strategy Group provides email updates on what's happening at the Capitol and identifies opportunities to take action in support of urban sustainability.

This service is free and provided by Conservation Strategy Group. For questions or comments, please contact Connie Gallippi at connie@csgcalifornia.com